Showtime is Doors open

This show features Australia's top cabaret impersonators Kerry James and Daniel Gold. “The Vegas Legends Show” consists of more than just a troupe of talented impersonators. In fact, audiences who have flocked to see this show over the past five years have gone home shaking their heads at the remarkable resemblances and vocal likenesses of the many characters portrayed during this two-hour blockbuster show.

Kerry James, whose impersonations of Tina Turner, Liza Minnelli, Cher, Dolly Parton, Marilyn Monroe and other Vegas Legends have been described as "just freakish" by British media, has toured Europe, the US, the Middle East and the UK, and has worked alongside some of the biggest names in the business, including The Hollies, Tony Bennett and Jerry Lewis.

Daniel Gold's penchant for impersonating comedians is amazing. Switching from Austin Powers to Dean Martin to Jerry Lewis to Johnny Cash to Frank Sinatra at push of a button, and then instantly becoming the King of rock 'n' roll, Elvis Presley, he leaves audiences spellbound with his quick fire repartee and amazing vocals.

With immaculate costuming, and backed by superbly arranged musical sequences, “The Vegas Legends Show” is musically brilliant, raucously funny and even sometimes a little irreverent.

It is little wonder that “The Vegas Legends Show” is breaking box office records wherever it plays.

This is definitely a show not to be missed.
